Energy theft is all around you
Wherever you are, whoever you are, the costs of energy theft affect us all

£0 insurance could be invalidated by energy theft if there’s a fire

CUT OFF
Your gas or electricity may be cut off if you’re found guilty of energy theft

1,500 people charged in the UK with energy theft each year

150,000 suspected cases of energy theft investigated every year

£50,000 fine + prison for London man damaging power supply to over 15,000 homes

2½ years prison + lost business + marriage breakdown for Cornish restaurant owner bypassing gas meters

£2,000 fine usual for energy theft

£440 million cost of energy theft to all of us each year

POWERED BY CRIMESTOPPERS

All incidences reported on this infographic have previously been reported in the UK media. The link between energy theft and personal injury or damage to property can be hard to prove due to the severe damage that electrical fires and gas explosions can cause. Links to the original information sources are listed on our website at stayenergysafe.co.uk/links